

The International Magazine for Luxury Fabrics, Yarns and Fibres

Twist

Issue 28
January-February 2011

Technical revolution

Why performance fabrics are on the catwalk

Rare and speciality fibres focus

The story behind organic silk

What's provenance labelling and why is it in demand?

Raphael le Masne
de Chermont, CEO of Shanghai Tang, on China and luxury

www.twist-international.com

Published by

Contents

January-February 2011

Regulars

7 Comment

The view from the editor

8 News

Global update from fibre to fashion

42 The Markets

Global raw material prices

45 The List

Technical terms explained

48 My Day

Gianluca Consoli, UK and international sales manager, Betty Jackson

49 Events

Shows, exhibitions and conferences across the world

Special features

Hi-tech sportswear / outdoor wear

28 Techno advances

Janet Prescott examines the latest developments in hi-tech fabrics and finds that the links between sportswear and fashion are growing rapidly.

31 Armoured tweed

A traditional Scottish fabric has been transformed for a new range of clothing offering bullet-proof protection, discovers Tara Hounslea.

Rare and speciality fibres

35 Hidden value

John W McCurry explains how the chance discovery of the outstanding benefits of the Yak's soft wool fibre have led to the birth of a new US company producing outdoor clothing which offers exceptional warmth and durability.

38 Mohair magic

South Africa's Stucken Group has become a fully vertical operation, and is using its outstanding expertise in mohair to produce a new range of luxury blankets, throws and accessories. Bruce Paterson reports.

40 Finer focus

Francis Rainsford explains why focusing on the production of finer alpaca is vital to the fibre's long-term development.

Features

18 The Knowledge

Oliver Weisbrod-Steiner explains why the demand for organic silk is gaining growing momentum and describes the strict environmental guidelines behind the production of this beautiful fabric.

20 Global Consumer Watch

A special Twist investigation looks at the growing importance of provenance labelling for luxury textiles mills, and the key global markets driving demand for such information.

24 The Twist Interview

Raphael le Masne de Chermont, the executive chairman of Shanghai Tang, talks to Elizia Volkmann about taking the first Chinese luxury brand to a global audience and why its Chinese tailoring remains at the heart of its aesthetic.

32 Multisensory experience

A new range of printed garments change colour and pattern by reacting to sound, sunlight and water.

18

31

