

The International Magazine for Luxury Fabrics, Yarns and Fibres

Twist

Issue 42
June 2012

Zeitgeist redefined

Spoerry breaks the mould

Rare & Speciality fibre focus

Performance Merino

I ♥ NY: The US love affair with Scottish textiles

Collaboration is king for Shandong Nanshan

www.twist-international.com

Published by

Contents

June 2012

Regulars

5 Comment
The view from the editor

6 News
Global update

42 The Markets
Global raw material prices

45 Events
Shows, exhibitions and conferences across the world

News analysis

12 CFW heads East
Following the launch of the Campaign for Wool in China, Xiao-ya Wei, AWI country manager, discusses the campaign's aim to raise awareness of the fibre amongst retailers and consumers.

Emerging talent

13 Designer profile: Matt Russell
Winner of the 2012 Clothworkers' Foundation Award in the Bradford Textile Society competition.

Sustainability

16 Leading the way
Argentina is the location of the Sustainable Textile Centre and the Centre for Studies of Sustainable Luxury. Founder Miguel Angel Gardetti explains his work to help luxury brands become more sustainable.

Rare & Speciality Fibres

18 Rich source
The Andes are home to some of the most desirable fibres in the world. Renowned for their rarity and super soft, fine quality, these fibres are in demand from the luxury market, commanding premium prices as high as US$940 per kilo. Pacifica Goddara and Jonathan Dyson report from Lima.

20 The Peruvian connection
Living in Australia, working in Peru. This is the life of Manuel Rosas and Fariba Heydari, founders of alpaca brand Da Capo. The pair believe it is this mix of cultures that gives them their fresh ideas. Our Peru correspondent Francis Rainsford finds out more.

Mohair

24 Do it yourself
Mohair SA is nurturing fresh design talent, encouraging people to knit their own personalised styles. Our South Africa correspondent Bruce Paterson reports.

Wool

26 Resurgent form
The US wool industry is profiting from a renewed interest amongst domestic sock manufacturers to buy American wool and have it processed in the US. Amy Trinidad of ASI explains more.

Scotland Re:Designed

27 New York, New York!
The textile and fashion designers who invaded the Big Apple to showcase the best in Scottish design. Charlotte Rogers reports on their success.

Wool Fabric

31 Company profile: Jiangsu Danmao
Sustainability is the focus for worsted wool fabric producer Jiangsu Danmao. Recycling wastewater, and developing plant based natural dyestuffs are a few of the recent projects. Charlotte Rogers finds out more.

34 'The world is too small to compete'
Chinese fabric and garment manufacturer Shandong Nanshan believes collaboration is the route to success. Instead of competing with Europe, the company advocates forging partnerships. Jonathan Dyson reports.

Luxury Cotton

32 Capturing the zeitgeist
The beginning of an adventure is how Swiss spinner Spoerry sees the production of its premium menswear collection, designed with Sea Island Cotton grown on the company's own Caribbean plantation. Charlotte Rogers reports.

Objects of Desire

39 Hand knitted textiles
British wool is the fibre of choice for this collection of textured hand knits, quirky crocheted upholstery and soft, chunky knit accessories by Rose Sharp Jones.

Performance Wear

40 Essential kit
Armadillo Merino is on a mission to help educate the military and other professional risk takers about the natural, life saving benefits of Merino wool. Charlotte Rogers finds out more.

Features

14 Global Consumer Watch
Where are luxury brands looking to regain revenue lost in mature markets? Charlotte Rogers reviews the latest statistics to find out some potential new markets for apparel and luxury goods.

22 The Knowledge
In late 2011, a project was launched to help promote the unique provenance of Mongolian cashmere, yak and camel hair by developing a specialised brand identity for the fibre, which also teaches consumers about the wonders of this remote country. Project partner Jeremy Hildreth explains.

36 The Twist Interview
From sewing in his bedroom to celebrity menswear favourite, Tom Bird, founder of UK clothing label House of Billiam is inspired by a love of British fabric to offer a bespoke streetwear service for the 21st century consumer. Charlotte Rogers reports.

