

The International Magazine for Luxury Fabrics, Yarns and Fibres

Twist

The New Wool Record Established 1909

Issue 9
May 2009

Eco inspiration

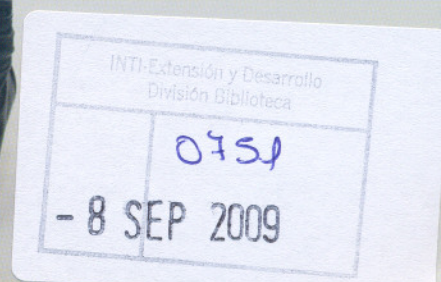

Sustainable luxury
from tika limited

Spring/summer 2010 fabric trends

US consumer watch

Tony Lutwyche interview

Guanaco - a rare luxury

Contents

May 2009

Regulars

- 9 Comment
The view from the editor
- 10 News
Global update from fibre to fashion
- 43 Industry Insight
News from across the production line
- 47 Obituary
Sas Douglas. A hugely popular wool industry figure who played a vital role in the development of the Australian Wool Testing Authority (AWTA), and following retirement became the Wool Record and Twist Australia correspondent.
- 48 The Markets
Global raw material prices
- 53 The List
Technical terms explained
- 56 My Day
John Brakenridge, CEO of The New Zealand Merino Company.
- 55 Events
Shows, exhibitions and conferences across the world

Show reports

- 22 Sunny side up
At an upbeat Filo, ingenious blends, the British country look and eco elements all emerged as key yarn trends for autumn/winter 2010/11. Janet Prescott reports from Milan.

Special features

Spring/summer 2010 fabric trends

- 30 Future bright
Angelico's spring/summer 2010 collection, with a wide range of colours, and the company's first 100% cotton fabric, illustrates the Biella mill's outstanding confidence. Debora Ferrero reveals how the Biella mill is continuing to expand and evolve in a variety of ways.

32 Summertime

Unlike most Biellese mills, for Lanificio Subalpino, the spring/summer season is more significant than autumn/winter, with a strong focus on design and colour, and cotton fabrics especially popular. Debora Ferrero reports.

34 Fabric collections for spring/summer 2010

Featuring John Foster, Fintes, Ermenegildo Zegna, Robert Noble, Lessona, Lanificio di Tollegno, Abraham Moon, and Standeven.

Wools for apparel

24 Original source

Wendy Mill explains how the increasing demand for clothes that pass the greenwash test is helping the New Zealand eco-friendly clothing label tika limited, which uses New Zealand Merino wool, grow in various global markets.

Features

16 The Knowledge

Ray Lerwill on why guanaco is one of the world's most versatile and luxurious natural fibres.

18 Global Consumer Watch

Our new US correspondent Nadja Sumter explains how certain brands, particularly those that focus on a distinctive quality and luxury, are continuing to expand in the States despite the economic downturn.

20 All around the world

A clear focus on luxury, and a new, complete menswear range is helping the Neapolitan fashion label Isaia continue to expand its overseas presence. Teresa Potenza reports.

26 The Twist Interview

Tony Lutwyche speaks to Janet Prescott about how the Lutwyche brand grew so quickly, the importance of investing in British workmanship, and what drew him to tailoring.

18

24

26

20

