

38

LEAN AND MEAN: The Ford Fusion features a four-cylinder gasoline engine and also a 93-kilowatt electric motor—powerful enough to carry the car at speed all by itself.

COVER: BRYAN CHRISTIE DESIGN
THIS PAGE: FORD MOTOR CO.

COVER STORY

26 MARCH OF THE SANDBOTS

Legged robots are striding more successfully than ever with the help of some fleet-footed desert natives.

By Daniel Goldman, Haldun Komsuoglu & Daniel Koditschek

22 SHRINKING POSSIBILITIES

Transistors will continue scaling to smaller than 20 nanometers, but it won't happen without extreme ultraviolet lithography. By Bill Arnold

32 THE UNIVERSAL HANDSET

Riddle: How many gadgets does it take to make cellphone calls, tap the Internet, and receive broadcast television? Answer: Soon, only one.

By Peter Koch & Ramjee Prasad

38 TOP TEN TECH CARS

After years of talk, the auto industry is finally building electric (or partially electric) cars. By John Voelcker

UPDATE

7 SMARTS ARE ONLY FOR SOME BRIDGES

Despite a boost in infrastructure spending, most U.S. bridges will stay dumb. By Prachi Patel

9 AUTOMATED AUDITORS

10 SILENCING CELLPHONES

11 VOLCANIC LIGHTNING

12 CONSUMER FUEL CELLS

14 THE BIG PICTURE

TV gets its turn in the spotlight.

OPINION

5 SPECTRAL LINES

Can "cap and tax" help President Obama's ambitious US $150 billion energy plan succeed?

6 FORUM

The truth about scuba rebreathers and the state of the art in lattice-based cryptography. Plus: Nvidia talks back.

20 TECHNICALLY SPEAKING

Tap into the information at your fingertips. By Paul McFedries

DEPARTMENTS

3 BACK STORY

Desert dwellers can be divas.

4 CONTRIBUTORS

16 HANDS ON

Profligate gasoline user, heal thyself! Step one: Build your own fuel-use monitor. By David Schneider

17 TOOLS & TOYS

Solving equations has never been easier, with one new math program and big updates to four others. By Kenneth R. Foster

18 MEDIA

Artist-programmer Aaron Koblin built a 10 000-person social network for his latest work. By Susan Karlin

19 CAREERS

How tightly do the ties that bind—noncompete clauses—bind? By Willie D. Jones

52 THE DATA

Cray X-MP versus Sony PlayStation 3: And the winner is.... By Paul Wallich