

em

THE MAGAZINE FOR ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGERS

Also in this issue:

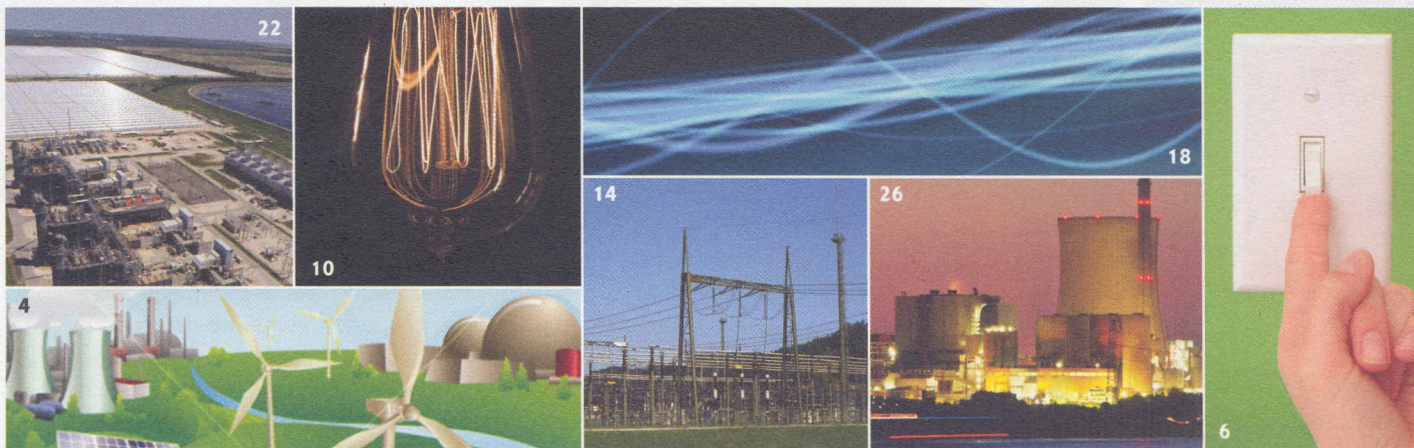

IT Insight: Legacy EH&S Software—Build vs. Buy?

Call for Abstracts: 2012 A&WMA Annual Conference & Exhibition

The U.S. Electric Utility Industry

Examining the potential impacts of new and proposed legislation

The U.S. Electric Utility Industry

by John Kinsman

The U.S. electric power industry is the focus of numerous federal and state regulatory initiatives, including the recently finalized Cross-State Air Pollution Rule (CSAPR), which replaces the Clean Air Interstate Rule. The impact of these new and proposed regulations will vary regionally and from company to company, but are expected to be felt far and wide. This month, EM considers the regulatory climate and impacts on power generators from the varied viewpoints of key stakeholders: the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), four power sector entities (Dominion, DTE Energy, Edison Electric Institute, and NextEra Energy), and the Bipartisan Policy Center.

Page 4

Cleaning the Air and Keeping the Lights On: EPA Rules Will Protect Health Reliably and Affordably

by Gina McCarthy, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency

Page 6

Meeting the Challenge of Powering Our Future

by Thomas R. Kuhn, Edison Electric Institute

Page 10

New EPA Regulations: Harmful or Helpful to U.S. Electric Utilities in a Time of Transformation?

by Thomas F. Farrell, II, Dominion

Page 14

Wave of Environmental Regulations Facing Electricity Generation: Surely, There Is a Better Approach

by Anthony Earley and Skiles Boyd, DTE Energy Co.

Page 18

EPA's Pending Environmental Regulations: Challenges and New Opportunities for the U.S. Electric Generation Fleet

by Lewis Hay, III, NextEra Energy Inc.

Page 22

Time to Modernize Aging Power Plants and Environmental Laws

by Jason Grumet, Joe Kruger, and Jennifer Macedonia, Bipartisan Policy Center

Page 26

COLUMNS

IT Insight:
Legacy EH&S Software:
(Re)Build or Buy? 30
by Jill Barson Gilbert

YP Perspective: Utility Industry: Providing a Strong Career Foundation . . 32
by Leah Blinn

ASSOCIATION NEWS

Message from the President 2
A&WMA: A Conduit for Information
Exchange Among All Stakeholders
by Jeff Muffat

ACE 2011 Panel Highlights 35
Emerging International Air Quality and Climate Change Strategies
by David L. Calkins and Miriam Lev-On

Member in the News 38
Gale F. Hoffnagle

Call for Abstracts for the 2012 Annual Conference &
Exhibition in San Antonio, TX . . 44

Member Minute 48
John Kinsman

DEPARTMENTS

Canadian Report	34
Washington Report	39
News Focus	40
Advertisers' Index	42
Professional Development Programs	46
Calendar of Events	47
JA&WMA Table of Contents	47

Printed on Recycled Paper